

Scripture Press

Overview

For more than 75 years, Scripture Press curriculum has distinguished itself as a curriculum focused on creating a learning experience entirely on the Scriptures.

Weekly lessons minister to the teacher first, who then guides students in the three-step process of Focus, Discover, Respond. This approach engages students and prepares them to apply the truth of Scripture directly to real-life situations.

As of Fall 2010, the quarterly Scripture Press Adult Disciples Bible Study Series is available in Braille, courtesy of Source of Light Ministries International. Call 706-342-0397 to place your

Churches love Scripture Press because it:

- Focuses entirely on the Scriptures
- Is based on conservative theology and doctrine.
- Leads to meaningful life application
- Is designed to meet the needs of your entire Sunday school
- Provides teachers with an in-depth, three-step approach
- Scripture is referenced in KJV and NIV

The 3-Step Approach

Focus-Discover-Respond is a simple but powerful methodology. It helps hold the attention of students, helps guide the teacher and ultimately provides direction for real life application of God's truth.

Step 1: Focus

This begins the lesson with creative, interactive learning activities that prepare the hearts of students to WELCOME THE WORD OF GOD. It also includes, up through High School, a Preparing Your Heart to Teach devotional to help prepare the teacher to welcome and apply the truth to his or her own life.

Step 2: Discover

This portion of the lesson actively involves students in a GUIDED DISCOVERY of God's Word, in which the deepest personal needs of the learner are touched by God.

Step 3: Respond

This section of the lesson includes activities, which encourage each student to be SENSITIVE TO THE LEADING OF THE HOLY SPIRIT so he or she will make specific, personal application of the truths learned.
